1. DISTRICT INFORMATION IN BRIEF:

1.1 DISTRICT PROFILE, MAJULI:

Majuli-the largest river island of the world, is a riverine tract in the state of Assam. The island is located within the bounds of the Mighty Brahmaputra. It is a unique fluvial landform formed as a result of dynamic river system. The island is bound by river Brahmaputra in the South and river Subansiri in the North- West and the Kherkotia suti in the North-East. The total geographical area of Majuli district is 1,245.12 sq.k.m (9, 30,712 Bigha, 3 katha, 4 lessa) in the year of 1956-57, but having lost significantly to erosion it had an area of only 483.0708 Sq. Km (361039 B 2K 9L) presently. The island has a length of about 80K.M and 20-25 K.M width in North-South direction. There are many chapories around the main mass of Majuli island which are also inherent parts of the Majuli. The chapories along with main land of Majuli district is highly prone to flood and erosion. The total no. of revenue villages in eighties was 210, but presently 139 nos of cadastral villages and 36 nos of non-cadastral villages exist, due to rampant erosion in last three decades. Out of total existing 175 Revenue villages, 93 villages are vulnerable to flood and erosion.

1.2 Majuli- Administrative Profile :-

Majuli is a newly created District. It has population of about 2,23,775 nos. (Database collected from the Gaonburhas through a local census, 2024) As per 2011 Census it was 1,67,304 nos. It is bounded by North Lakhimpur District in the north and Jorhat in the south. Sivsagar district lies towards its east and Golaghat district lies toward its south-west. There are some villages of Majuli which are located around 70 km away from mainland and can be reached only via Golaghat district. Another islet called Sadhu Chapori is also part of Majuli district which is 142 km away in the river from district head quarter and can be reached via Lakhimpur District. Thus, although Majuli has less population, it is very widely spread across the river Brahmaputra.

NAME OF SUB-DIVISION :- KAMALABARI W. R. SUB-DIVISION

1. INTRODUCTION:

Majuli is the lone river Island district of India situated in the lower energy fluvial system of River Brahmaputra in upper Assam. It is a unique landform developed as a result of fluvial and dynamic process of Brahmaputra river system. The Island is bound by River Brahmaputra in the South and River Subansiri in the North-West and the Kherkutia Suti in the North-East. The total geographical area of Majuli District is 483 Sq km. Earlier Majuli was a sub-division under Jorhat District but declared as a district since Sept. 2016. According to 2011 census, it has population of about 1,64,513. The Island extends about 80 km in length along East-West direction and 20-25 km in width along North South direction. There are many Chapories around the main mass of Majuli Island which are the parts of the Majuli.

The Chapories along with main land of Majuli District is highly prone to Flood and Erosion. The total no. of Revenue Villages was 210, but now only 141 numbers exist due to loss of landmass in erosion during last three decades. Out of total existing 141 villages of the district, 103 villages (65%) are vulnerable for flood.

2. PROBLEM OF FLOOD IN MAJULI ISLAND

Flood is a perennial problem affecting people of Majuli every year during monsoon season. Majuli gets inundated not only in severe floods but also in normal flood cycles. Every year, at least three waves of floods affect Majuli with different intensities. The island has been experiencing floods for a long time as it is an integral part of the active floodplain of River Brahmaputra. Floods here are associated with huge loss of life and property such as houses, crops etc., spread of epidemic, non-availability of essential commodities, artificial price-rise, non-availability of sufficient medicines, drinking water etc. After 1950 earthquake, spilling of the Brahmaputra in the upper reaches of the island started in large scale and thus immediate measures as per the National Flood Policy of Govt. of India had to be taken to contain the spilling by way of constructing embankment system.

The core area of Majuli Island has been protected by embankment system of Water Resources Department (WRD). These embankment systems play a vital role in during every flood season which gives reasonable protection to a vast area of the district. Table 1 shows the list of embankments under WRD in Majuli District. Out of the total 124.94 km of embankment in the district, the Brahmaputra River has 92.357 km of embankment and Subansiri River has the rest 32.583 km of embankments.

The recent flood scenario reveals that nature of flooding, frequency, and extent of flood damage has been increasing over the years. Although flood is an integral part of life here, the untimely and severe floods in the recent years make the community highly vulnerable and less resilient compared to earlier days.

The embankment system located at upper Majuli area remains under tremendous flood pressure and sometimes breach occurs in the embankment causing loss of life and widespread damage to properties and agriculture. These embankment systems are the major shelter facility during flood period and also serve as the main communication roads.

FLOOD PREPARDNESS OF WRD, MAJULI

Control room :-

The Departmental Control Room is functioning in the office of the Executive Engineer, Majuli W. R. Division at Garamur with effect from 15th May 2026 to 30th October 2026, round the clock. Flood message will be transmitted every day at 12 Hours from the Control Room. Telephone No. of Control Room – 7002748456 and 6001498131.

Field Staff :-

Field staff are detailed in their respective sections/beats as shown in Annexure-I. The placement of staff will be slightly modified after starting of the Control Room and final placement of staff will be immediately intimated to DDMA Majuli, District Administration and Higher Authority of this Department.

Flood Drill Works :-

The Water Resources Department has already started identification of vulnerable areas of the embankment and Flood Drill works will be taken up with the fund to be made available by the department for safeguarding the existing flood management structures like embankments. Before every flood season, flood fighting materials will be centrally stocked in the Divisional Store at Kamalabari and sent to the different sections/beats as per requirements.

Earth stakes will be made at vulnerable areas of embankments and RCC porcupines are also stocked before every flood season. In addition to this, routine patrolling works are undertaken during every flood event and all information is sent to the Departmental control room at Garamur, Majuli.

Material Bank:-

The Govt. of Assam has taken a new initiative under the SDRF to create a MATERIAL BANK at a central location of the district at Majuli for storing emergency flood fighting materials like geo bags of different sizes, empty cement bags, RCC porcupines, gunny bags etc.

PROBLEM OF RIVER BANK EROSION IN MAJULI DISTRICT

According to reports, in 1853, the total area of Majuli was 1,250 km² and about 60% of this landmass has been eroded in the later half of 20th century. After the great earthquake of 1950, erosion of the River Brahmaputra in Majuli reach became active and a part of the south east and south west side of the island was eroded away by the river causing increasing threat to the island and its rich natural and cultural heritage. This has affected the bio-diversity of the island's flora and fauna, socio cultural fabric and the demographic pattern of the population. One third of the Satras of the island had to be shifted to the north and south bank of the Brahmaputra. Since 1991, over 35 villages have been washed away.

BANK EROSION DUE TO THE BRAHMAPUTRA:

It has been observed that there has been a continuous shift in bank line of Brahmaputra river channel indicating significant erosion affect at many places of Majuli Island.

- a) There was significant migration of River Brahmaputra during the period of 1966-75 to 1988. Heavy erosion was caused by this river during this period as the river migrates towards north at most of the places. The river channel had migrated for a distance of about 6.49 km near Mayadevi, 5.24 km near Manikmukh Kumargaon, 1.73 km at BengenaAti and 4.24 kms near Khoraparagaon.
- b) During the period of 1998-08 it was evidenced that Subansiri River had shifted its course and joined at Brahmaputra 15 km ahead of its earlier point of debouch in the western part of Majuli Island. This result in erosion of Majuli Island and thereby decreasing the total area. The next 65 km mainly showed migration towards north. The river migrated towards north about 1.53 km near Khoraparagaon, 1.14 km near Bengenaati and 1.53 km near Rajgurubari. In between, the river had migrated towards south at Khoraholagaon and Kapahchali for about a distance of 1.25 km and 1.8 km respectively with reference to the 1998 position of the river bank line.

BANK EROSION DUE TO THE RIVER SUBANSIRI:

The Subansiri carries enormous silt load in flood season for which gradient of the river bed in the hilly and piedmont reach is very steep and in the plains it is much flatter and thereby has lost her stability in plains. Enormous silt with high velocity gets deposited in the bed of the river itself in the plains causing aggradations and the river becomes braided resulting bank erosion. The great earthquake of 1950 had also caused change of course of the river along with aggradations of the bed.

- a) The bank line migration of river Subansiri was observed during 1966-1975 to 1988 near Bahumari and Nunibari for a distance of about 3.12 km towards south. The Subansiri migrated towards north for 0.64 km at the western end of Majuli causing deposition. Within 20 to 40 km towards east of the island, the river recedes away towards north for 2.02 km at Major Chapori and for 2.86 km at Kumaliagaon causing deposition. For the rest of the distance from 35 to 80 km the river migrated towards south a maximum of 1.25 km at Chaporigaon and 1.21 km at Jengrai causing erosion.

The erosion affected locations at right bank of river Brahmaputra are falling under the jurisdiction of Brahmaputra Board as the responsibility of erosion protection of Majuli district from the erosion of river Brahmaputra has been bestowed upon the Brahmaputra Board and the eroding reaches of Brahmaputra river at Ahotguri G.P (In an isolated and small island in Brahmaputra river but in Majuli District) are looked after by Majuli W.R. Division.

Key Findings for Flood Planning

- High Risk Zone: Karatipar and Sriluit have the highest percentage of their centers at risk (over 65% each).
- Volume Risk Zone: Karatipar also has the highest absolute number of flood-prone AWCs (35), followed by D. Ahataguri (20).
- Low Risk Zone: Garamur is the safest sector with only 2 AWCs reported as flood-affected.

Actionable Requirements by Sector

- Karatipar & D. Ahataguri: Prioritize for Child-Friendly Spaces (CFS) and early pre-positioning of food stocks.
- Sriluit & Bongaon: Focus on alternative building verification, as a high number of these centers will require relocation during the peak monsoon.

2. Infrastructure & Safety (Pre-Flood Phase)

Goal: Harden physical assets and secure safe locations.

- AWC Relocation Mapping: For centers marked "Yes" for flood affection, supervisors must identify the nearest "High Land" or permanent flood shelter.
- Asset Elevation: All essential records, weighing scales, and Growth Monitoring Devices must be stored in cupboards at least 4 feet above the ground level.

3. Supply Chain & Nutrition Security

Goal: Prevent malnutrition during periods of isolation.

- Pre-Positioning of THR: Standardize a 15-day emergency stock of Take-Home Ration (THR) to be stored at the Sector level or in flood-resistant community hubs.
- Safe Drinking Water: Provide halogen tablets and jerry cans to AWCs in sectors to prevent water-borne diseases when tube wells are submerged.
- Medicine Kits: Distribute "Flood Kits" containing ORS, Zinc, and basic first aid to all 326 AWCs, prioritizing those listed as flood-prone.

4. Communication & Monitoring

Goal: Real-time data flow for rapid response.

- Early Warning System: Supervisors must establish a WhatsApp/SMS tree to relay water level alerts from the Majuli Revenue Circle to Anganwadi Workers (AWWs).
- Daily Reporting: During monsoon months, AWWs in "Yes" marked flood zones must report the status of the center and the availability of children by 10:00 AM daily.

5. Post-Flood Recovery

- Sanitization: Mandatory bleaching and disinfection of AWC premises (especially toilets and kitchens) before children return.
- Health Check-ups: Conduct immediate "Village Health & Nutrition Days" (VHND) post-flood to screen for skin infections or diarrhea.
- Damage Assessment: Supervisors must submit a formal report of any damaged ICDS assets within 48 hours of water receding.

Duties and Responsibilities

Duties of the ICDS Supervisor

As the primary link between the Project Office and the field, the Supervisor's duties include:

- Verification: Conducting physical audits of "Alternative Buildings" in their assigned sector before the flood season begins.
- Logistics Coordination: Ensuring the timely supply of medicine kits (ORS, Zinc) and SNP to every AWW under their jurisdiction.
- Reporting: Compiling daily status reports of AWC closures and beneficiary health to the CDPO.
- Emergency Contact: Maintaining an active 24/7 contact line (using numbers like those in the report) for rapid response coordination.

Duties of the Anganwadi Worker (AWW)

The AWW serves as the first responder for the community:

- Asset Protection: Moving essential registers, growth monitoring devices, and nutrition stocks to safe storage (Changs) before water entry.
- WASH Management: Promoting safe drinking water practices and disinfecting the AWC premises with bleaching powder post-flood.
- Health Vigilance: Monitoring children for signs of water-borne diseases and reporting medical emergencies to the Supervisor immediately.
- Service Continuity: Organizing mobile sessions for pregnant women and providing nutrition counseling in relief camps or alternative shelters.

9.2 . Child-Friendly Spaces (CFS) during Floods

Definition: A CFS is a temporary Flood Rehabilitation Center (where need) established in "Alternative Buildings" or high-land shelters where children can play, learn, and receive psychosocial support in a safe, supervised setting during the disaster.

9.2.1 Objectives of CFS in Majuli:

- Safety & Protection: Provide a secure area away from floodwater hazards and overcrowding in relief camps.
- Psychosocial Support: Offer structured activities (drawing, storytelling, games) to help children process the trauma of displacement.
- Nutrition Delivery: Serve as the central point for distributing Supplementary Nutrition (SNP) and monitoring the health of toddlers and infants.
- Early Childhood Education (ECE): Maintain a sense of normalcy by continuing basic preschool activities while the permanent AWC is submerged.

6. Post-Flood Recovery

- Damage Assessment: Supervisors must document infrastructure damage for all centers
- Sanitization: Mandatory cleaning and sanitization of every affected AWC before resuming regular preschool activities.

11 CONTINGENCY PLAN OF AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT:

INTRODUCTION.

Disaster refers to a serious disruption of the functioning of a society, causing widespread human, material or environmental loss, which exceeds the ability of the affected society to cope using its own resources. To put in other words, it is the occurrence of a sudden mishap/ calamity/ grave occurrence that disrupt the basic fabric and normal functioning of a society (community).

Human vulnerability to disaster is an age old phenomenon. Modernization and industrialization have disrupted normal resource balance. This along with alarming increase in population, depletion of resources, lack of knowledge and skills and raising economic disparities are considered to be mainly responsible for the vulnerability of society to these catastrophes.

The site selection for the entire programme has based upon several feasibility and impact studies related to sustainability such as existing wind pattern, solar access, soil, air, water conditions, noise pollution, and biodiversity.

One of the major repercussions that disaster has is on agriculture. A substantial part of the population of the Majuli district depends on agriculture for its livelihood. Agricultural activity affected by any unforeseen weather change or variations in physical conditions. This get accentuated in the District in case of floods and droughts resulting indisruption of peoples livelihood and adding to the risk, damage and stress of disasters, crop and food losses due to pests, diseases wild animals, insects and weeds are considerable. Insects outbreaks are generally the result of a combination of temperature, monoculture of crops, introduction of plants to new locations, weather pattern. Again out breaks of wild animals is due to deforestation and shortage of food. Disaster management has presently evoked a methodological approach that focuses on systematic observations their analysis and dissemination of likely events to structure informed application of resources in time. The most critical goal of disasters management activity is to reach out the people promptly in the remotest areas and reduce vulnerability to disaster.

14 Flood Contingency Plan — Fishery Department, Majuli:Background:

Majuli, the world's largest river island, is frequently impacted by floods and riverbank erosion, leading to significant loss of land and posing a threat to the island's unique culture and livelihoods. Covering approximately 880 square kilometres, Majuli is characterised by lush floodplain wetlands, riverbanks, and paddy fields, which support diverse ecosystems.

The fishery resources of Majuli are vital not only to the economy but also to the cultural identity of its people. However, due to frequent flooding, fish farmers in the district face huge losses in fish production every year. Sometimes, the impact is so severe that the embankments of ponds and tanks are completely eroded.

Recognising these challenges, the Fishery Department has undertaken several measures to guide and support farmers during the flood season. The details of the officials concerned are provided below:

Ponds & Tanks (Nos.)	Water Area (in Ha)	Development Block	Name of Official	Designation	Contact Number
3582	722	Majuli Development Block	Bikram Saikia	Fishery Development Officer (F.D.O)	7896481144
		Ujoni Majuli Development Block	Partha Pratim Nath	Fishery Development Officer (F.D.O)	7002527525
		Ujoni Majuli Development Block	Manashree Deka Chintey	Nodal Officer	8134844068

Key Measures Taken by the Fishery Department:

- Regular monitoring of fishery areas before, during, and after floods.
- Guidance for reinforcement and strengthening of pond embankments.
- Distribution of emergency fish feed and seed support to affected farmers.
- Technical support and advisory services on pond rehabilitation post-flood.
- Coordination with local administration for rescue and relief operations concerning fisheries.
